

Site Director

Dr Geraldine Stout is a recognised authority on the Brú na Bóinne World Heritage Site and has written numerous books and articles on the area. She is an archaeologist with the Archaeological Survey of Ireland. Her recent book “Newgrange and the Bend of the Boyne” is the exploration of an outstanding archaeological landscape centered on Newgrange Passage Tomb and its greater environs.